Besides Girl Scouts, Ro is an active member of St. Hilary's Episcopal Church in Fort Myers and PEO, a philanthropic education organization of women who help other women with their education. Ro recently served as a troop co-leader and believes that a program specifically for girls offers the best environment in which girls can develop their leadership skills and see themselves in roles that are usually not open to them. She recognizes that offering such a program is not done by chance, that it takes the commitment and effort of adults who recognize the value of the program and who are willing to work to maintain the necessary resources to ensure the continued availability and growth of the organization.
